

Alaskan Yukon Explorer

Tour Overview

Journey south from Anchorage to the lush Kenai Peninsula, native Alaskans' vacation paradise. Stare in awe at the ice-blue wonder of Portage Glacier Lake before heading to the fishing capital of the Kenai, Seward. Embark on an incredible full-day scenic cruise to the Kenai Fjords National Park and glide past calving glaciers, numerous sea bird colonies and perhaps a pod of orcas hunting for salmon. Then, board the Whittier to Valdez ferry across Prince William Sound, and be greeted with more stunning scenery, including the immense Columbia Glacier.

On to America's largest national park, Wrangell-St. Elias. With two nights at our wonderfully eclectic lodge in the "bush town" of McCarthy, you will have plenty of time to explore the abandoned copper mining town of Kennicott, hike along the Kennicott and Root glaciers, or try your hand at ice-climbing. Why not take a scenic flight past the towering mountains and endless glaciers to truly experience this vast and rugged wilderness.

The Yukon's premier national park, Kluane, beckons with a lovely campsite along the shoreline of Lake Kluane. Hike up Sheep Mountain or relax by the lake, soaking up its serene beauty before heading to Whitehorse. Wander the streets and take in the sights of this frontier capital before following the trail of the original Sourdough miners along the Yukon River to the gold rush town of Dawson. Camp along the banks of the mighty Yukon River and relive history panning for gold or gambling at Diamond Tooth Gertie's Saloon.

It's still further north along the Dempster Highway into Canada's Northwest Territories and across the Arctic Circle to Inuvik, Canada's northernmost town. Be prepared for remote terrain as we experience the cultures of the Dene, Metis and Inuvialuit peoples in this frontier town. Take an optional flight to the town of Tuktoyaktuk on the coast of the Arctic Ocean to gain a unique insight into this remote and hardy community.

Returning south, the scenic "Top of the World Highway" takes us back to Alaska. Saving the best for last, Denali National Park, "The Great One", is home to Mt. McKinley. Denali offers spectacular views, abundant wildlife and excellent hiking through unspoiled wilderness. It is the perfect finish to an unforgettable journey.

BEAR VIEWING AVAILABLE:

We offer a 1-day wild Alaskan bear viewing tour, from USD $639, available after your trip (see page 4 for more details).

DESTINATIONS

Please find below more detailed information on the destinations this tour visits:

Alaska Range - The highest mountain range in North America with Mt. McKinley measuring an impressive 20,320ft in height, is home to three National Parks: Kluane, Wrangell-St. Elias and Mt. McKinley, which was later re-named Denali National Park & Preserve.

Anchorage - The largest city in Alaska with only 250,000 people, Anchorage has gone through quite a change since the earthquake of 1964. Now a bustling city fuelled by the oil boom and tourism, it was not that long ago that Anchorage was the last outpost before heading into "the Last Frontier".

Denali National Park - Home to the highest peak in North America (20,320ft.), Denali National Park is the centrepiece of Alaskan wilderness. Once known as Mt. McKinley National Park, the park was officially renamed Denali, or "The High One", as the local Native Americans know it. There will be plenty of opportunity to go hiking, as well as viewing the diverse wildlife among the impressive, rugged mountain peaks.

Tok - Tok originated as an Alaska Road Commission camp for the construction of the Alcan and Glenn Highways in the 1940s. It is now the trade center for the Athabaskan Native villages of Northway, Tetlin, Tanacross, Mentasta, Eagle and Dot Lake. Native arts and crafts may be found at the local shops.

Kluane National Park - Mostly inaccessible, Kluane is the Canadian extension of the Wrangell-St Elias National Park in Alaska. Besides being home to some of Canada's most remote and pristine wilderness, Kluane also possesses Canada's highest peak (Mount Logan 5950m) and the world's largest non-polar icefield.

Whitehorse, Yukon Territory - Don't let its location fool you. Deep in the heart of the Yukon Territory lies its bustling capital, Whitehorse. What was once a stopover for the Klondike gold-rushers has turned into a popular stopover for travellers on their way to the great white north. Take a paddle-cruise down the Yukon River or hang out in the local cafes and bars to experience the Yukon's unique atmosphere.

Dawson City, Yukon - Located on the banks of the Yukon and Klondike Rivers, about 300 miles north of Whitehorse, Dawson City was the destination of choice for tens of thousands of "stampedeers" during the Yukon gold rush of the late 1890s. Now a National Historic Site, Dawson City is popular with travellers on their way to Alaska or further north in the Yukon Territory.

Inuvik - Inuvik is a place of rich diversity, located on the Mackenzie Delta - Canada's largest fresh water delta, close to the Arctic Ocean, with a spectacular view of the Richardson Mountains. Inuvik is nestled between the treeless tundra and the northern boreal forest, and overlooks the incredible maze of lakes and streams of the Delta.

Valdez - Called the "Switzerland of Alaska" due to the snow-capped mountains surrounding the city, Valdez (pronounced "Val-dees") is the terminus of the 800 hundred mile long Alaskan pipeline. Ships and ferries depart from this port city to cross the majestic Prince William Sound.

Wrangell St. Elias National Park - Bordering Canada's Yukon Territory, this stunning NP is the largest in the country, containing glaciers five times the size of Manhattan; and nine of the sixteen highest peaks in North America! Wrangell St. Elias NP offers excellent hiking opportunities and the chance to try ice-climbing.

ARRIVAL / DEPARTURE HOTELS

Our arrival and departure hotels are conveniently located and serve as your tour's start and end points. Rooms are comfortable and spacious, with two double beds and en-suite facilities. They make good bases for sightseeing and offer an opportunity to informally meet with your fellow trekkers.

The tour begins at 07:30hrs in the hotel lobby, where you will meet your group and tour guide. You should have packed your bags and eaten breakfast so that you are fresh and ready to start the journey.

The tour ends between 17:00-18:00hrs on the final day. Please do not reserve flights until at least 21:00hrs or the following day.

If you would like to reserve additional nights in our hotel before or after the holiday, or if you would prefer to have your own room throughout, please contact our sales team for additional information and associated costs.

CAMPING ACCOMMODATION

Camping allows us to stay in the heart of the most breathtaking natural scenery, away from fast food outlets and the encroaching development; and Grand American Adventure's experienced tour leaders and top quality equipment will surely enhance your experience.

Your comfort is important to us and we know that starts with using high quality camping gear. We only use top of the range, spacious two-person tents and thick (air/foam-filled) sleeping pads to ensure your evenings are comfortable and restful. Sturdy camp chairs are often available for those evening chats as the group prepares delicious meals (using state of the art camping stoves). All you need to bring is a warm sleeping bag and a sense of adventure and you will be sure to enjoy the trip of a lifetime!

Nearly all of our local campgrounds provide modern conveniences and amenities such as hot showers (paid locally approx $2) and flush toilets; whilst others will have swimming pools, shops and launderettes. On special occasions, our groups may utilize rustic, wilderness sites in order to fully appreciate more remote areas' natural surroundings. That said, waking up at camp to the smell of fresh brewed coffee provides a truly intimate natural experience and one that eludes conventional tourists.

A sleeping bag is required for this tour. Make sure your sleeping bag is warm enough for the time of year you are travelling.

GROUP PARTICIPATION

An essential part of a Grand American Adventures camping holiday is helping out around the campsite. Our tents are easy to set up and with guidance from your tour leader, everyone will assist with the setting up and packing of the campsite. As a team, it only takes approximately 20 minutes before setting up your "home with a view" in the great outdoors!

Your tour leaders will organize daily activities and guided hikes, as well as coordinate and assist the group when shopping for food, preparing the daily meals and washing up.

As this is a participatory trip, group members will assist with the preparation of meals and with the washing. That said, often the best meals on the road are created when individuals offer to cook up one of their specialties from home!

FOOD & DRINK

Grand American Adventures include all meals while camping (alcohol/drinks purchased locally) and you will be sure to enjoy regular international dinner parties on the road. Our professional guides are great in the kitchen and they prepare delicious, healthy meals for you to enjoy, so you can take that path less travelled... with a full stomach.

We prepare plenty of good fresh food on our camping trips and anticipate hearty eaters. Breakfasts often include fresh fruits and cereal, toast, juice, coffee or tea. Fried bacon or sausage, pancakes or eggs may also be available on more leisurely mornings. Lunches are typically picnic style and consist of a selection of delicatessen meats, cheeses and salads. Dinners are filling and main dishes include pastas, grilled meats/chicken/fish, as well as regional specialties such as Mexican fajitas or BBQ's and are accompanied with cooked vegetables or fresh salads.

Meals consist of a variety of balanced dishes and, aiming for universal appeal, we avoid highly spiced foods. Vegetarians are certainly welcome and are always accommodated. Please let us know of any dietary concerns at the time of booking.

On occasion, meals are taken in local restaurants where passengers pay individually for food and drinks en route. Average breakfasts cost from $6-$12, lunches from $8-15 and dinners from $13-$30; this does not include alcoholic beverages. Wine costs approximately $5 per glass and beer $3 per bottle. Please be aware that a tip of approximately 20% is added to group meals in restaurants in North America and applicable taxes will also be added to all listed menu prices.

GROUPS

The average group size is 12 passengers.

Passengers come from a range of countries worldwide (average of 4 nationalities per group) and many will be solo travellers. You will find you have many things in common with your fellow trekkers, including a passion for adventure and a strong interest in exploring the national parks.

Grand American Adventures tours are designed for adults over 18 years old. While most passengers are aged 25-55, every year we get many people both above and below this age range. All travellers over the age of 55 will be requested to complete a self-declaration of fitness.

CLIMATE & CLOTHING

Keep in mind that our dress tends to be informal. Take a practical selection of clothes for both warm and cool climates to suit the season. You may encounter a wide variety of temperatures en route due to altitude and unforeseen weather conditions - so be prepared! Make sure to pack a warm fleece and a waterproof jacket/coat in case of rain.

Approximate year-round temperatures are listed below.

OPTIONAL ACTIVITIES/SPENDING MONEY

There are many opportunities for optional activities during the holiday. Your tour guide will organize these on your behalf and you will pay locally in cash. Featured activities and approximate prices are listed below:

★ Dog sled demonstration	Included
★ Fishing	US $150
★ Hiking opportunities	Included
★ Ice climbing	US $100
★ Kenai Fjords NP boat tour	US $155
★ River rafting	US $65 - 100
★ Scenic flight	US $130 - 225
★ Sea kayaking	US $45 - 100
★ Flight to Tuktoyaktuk	US $235

ATM/Cash points are widely available in all major cities and small towns. Please ensure that your credit or debit cards have international access and a PIN number to access your funds.

We recommend you take at least US $35 dollars per day to cover local expenses, but it's better to bring more than you need rather than run short on tour. Your spending money needs to cover optional activities, film, souvenirs and snacks along the way.

Additionally, tipping is a way of life in North America and, whilst not compulsory, it is expected. We recommend a tip of approximately US $5 per passenger / per day to be given in cash to your tour leader at the end of your holiday.

TRANSPORTATION

All of our private vehicles are designed to ensure your safety, comfort and enjoyment of the tour. In North America, our new 15-seater Fords feature raised ceilings for more headroom, individual captain seats for more comfort and an open centre aisle floor plan, making it easier when getting in and out at those many photo opportunities - during their first two years on the road they've proved incredibly popular. All our vehicles are equipped with CD stereo systems, often iPod-compatible, and air-conditioning, to make travelling a pleasure.

PASSPORTS & VISAS

This tour visits the USA only and it is your responsibility to obtain the proper passport and visa(s). More details are provided in our Trek Tips pre-departure information at <http://www.trekamerica.com/trektips.html>

HOW TO BOOK YOUR TOUR

Contact Grand American Adventures by telephone, email or via our website to check availability on the tour you want to join. We can normally hold you a seat on 'option' for up to 3 days to allow you time to finalise your flight arrangements and send us your booking form with a deposit payment.

If you are ready to book and pay your deposit, we have a secure, online booking facility where you can pay in most major currencies with a credit or debit card. Check availability early to avoid disappointment.

ALASKA BEAR WATCHING TOUR

View Alaska black and brown bears in their natural habitat on a guided bear watching trip at Redoubt Bay Lodge - a small rustic lodge situated in a 171,000-acre critical habitat area.

Redoubt Bay Lodge is located 70 miles (a 50-minute flight) southwest of Anchorage near the dramatic entrance of Lake Clark National Park and Preserve and is home to one of the most concentrated and viewable bear populations in the state of Alaska. After landing our floatplane on the lake in front of the lodge, your bear watching trip begins. You will take a covered pontoon boat with our experienced naturalist guides through the chain of Big River Lakes that are host to sockeye and Coho salmon runs and a popular feeding site for resident bear (and fishermen as well!) This bear viewing experience is an easy day trip from Anchorage with morning or afternoon departures of approximately 6 1/2 hours that includes airport shuttle, return flights, bear viewing and a hot lunch served in the lodge. (Overnight packages are available on request).

The Alaska Bear Watching Tour in Redoubt Bay Includes:

- Wild Alaska brown and black bear watching from a covered pontoon boat
- 50-minute scenic flight-seeing tour from Anchorage (return) with a guaranteed window seat with the rich knowledge (and personality) of an Alaska bush pilot
- Redoubt Bay Field Guide with bear, flora and fauna facts
- Homemade lunch in the rustic Redoubt Bay lodge
- Interactive experience with Alaska natural history guides
- Countless photo opportunities
- Shuttle service from to the Anchorage airport from your Anchorage hotel

Prices from: USD $639

Flight Pattern: Depart from Lake Hood, the world's busiest floatplane harbor and fly southwest over Cook Inlet and the western edge of the Kenai Peninsula to the foothills of the Lake Clark National Park. During the flight, your pilot will share information on scenic highlights, while flying low enough to spot Alaska wildlife. You may also fly over Cook Inlet, spotting for Beluga whales. Your pilot will pick the best route for the weather conditions and scenic possibilities.

Depart Anchorage	Return Anchorage	Extras included in the trip
8:00am	2:30pm	Hotel-airport transfers, hot lunch served in lodge
12:30pm	7:00pm
Flight times may vary; you will need to be at the Lake Hood floatplane airport 30 minutes prior to departure to check in.	These times are provided are approximate.	Please dress in layers and be prepared for rainy weather.
